

Stop, ask, or continue

Use the label and symbol, not color alone. The introductory lab never uses real student information or student work.

[READY] READY FOR THE LAB

Practice copy with no real people or records; a permitted blank format or rough notes; a public standard when permitted.

[ASK] ASK SCHOOL BEFORE LATER USE

Real student work, coded or grouped data, licensed curriculum, family communication, connectors, file uploads, sharing, or memory.

[STOP] NOT USED IN THIS LAB

Grades, rosters, IEPs, behavior notes, placement, discipline, accommodations, evaluations, or student-level decisions.

The five-question review

- 1 Is this the school-named tool and staff account?
- 2 Does the material contain information about a real student, family, staff member, or confidential situation?
- 3 Did the assistant stay inside the material and mark missing information?
- 4 Are the facts, tone, fairness, and instructional choices appropriate?
- 5 Am I prepared to own the final decision and wording?

WHEN UNSURE

Stop. Do not enter the material. Ask the school contact.
